

Wait a minute!!
It is illegal to ride a 'Moped' on the road!!

What are Mopeds?

Mopeds are two wheeled, engine-powered vehicle with pedal.
In Japan, mopeds are not categorized as bicycle but as motorcycle.

To ride a "Moped" on the road, the followings are required

- ① To have a driver's licence.
- ② To wear a helmet.
- ③ To install parts such as headlights and indicators.
- ④ To have compulsory automobile liability insurance.
- ⑤ To show a license plate on the rear side.

If you drive an illegal "Moped" on the road, you could be punished by up to 3 years in prison or fined up to 500,000 yen.